

Peter B. Smith, Provisional WELL AP, LEED AP Homes
Vice President, Delos

Peter joins the Delos Living team with an extensive building science background as well as a deep knowledge of design and construction management. With a passion for architecture and the environment, he continues to seek out innovative technologies to advance building design and operation.

Prior to joining Delos, Peter worked as a Sustainability Consultant at Steven Winter Associates, an industry leading green building consulting firm. During his time at SWA, he managed residential new construction projects pursuing energy efficiency programs including ENERGY STAR® and LEED® for Homes™. He led project teams to encourage holistic, sustainable design and incorporate strategies to reduce energy use.

Peter holds a bachelor's degree from Colgate University in Environmental Economics and maintains a LEED® AP Homes accreditation. As an avid outdoorsman, he is committed to improving building and wellness standards to benefit the health of both the inhabitants and the environment.